

“To travel is to live”

H. C. Andersen wrote this passage in 1855 in “The Fairy Tale of My Life”. This was in the railway’s childhood, but even in 2018 it is popular to travel. At the heritage railways, Skjoldenæsholm Tram Museum and The Danish Railway Museum, a journey of a couple of hours will seem long in another way, because you travel about 100 years back in time!

“To travel is to live”

On the website www.veterantog.dk you can find “Culture on rails - a journey back in time by train and tram” in English.

Buy tickets for “Culture on Rails” - a journey in Denmark

A journey with “Culture on Rails” obviously requires a ticket.

A journey with “Culture on Rails” obviously requires a ticket. You can buy “a roundtrip ticket” for the unique travel adventures described in the brochure for either week 31, week 32 or both weeks.

Prices for “the roundtrip tickets” are:

Week 31 (from 28 July to 4 August) 1 adult: 400,- DKK

Week 32 (from 5 August to 12 August) 1 adult: 400,- DKK

Children under the age of 12 accompanied by an adult travel for free.

Tickets are purchased at www.veterantog.dk

It is NOT possible to buy one-day tickets for “Culture on Rails”. Regular tickets without the “Culture on Rails” part can be purchased at the railways.

Welcome to the unique journey

After having purchased a ticket for one of the weeks you will receive a “roundtrip ticket” at the end of June. This ticket covers the chosen week including a travel plan with precise times for each journey.

Passengers in “Culture on Rails” must provide transport between the railways and possible overnight accommodation themselves.

If you have any questions regarding tickets, please contact: info@veterantog.dk.

In addition to travelling by train or tram, participants get a special cultural heritage experience at the various railways.

Living cultural heritage

A unique holiday experience in Denmark

The activities in “Culture on Rails” in Denmark take place from 28 July to 12 August with events east of the Great Belt in week 31 and in Funen and Jutland in week 32.

“Culture on Rails” is offered as two travel packages – a roundtrip ticket for each of the two weeks where you become part of the journey back in time.

In addition to travelling by train or tram, participants get a special cultural heritage experience at the various railways.

Danske Veterantogs Fællesrepræsentation Danske Veterantog

Danske Veterantogs Fællesrepræsentation (The Joint Committee of Danish Heritage Railways) is an interest group for Danish heritage trains and railways. They all display historical vehicles in operation.

This takes place on a non-commercial basis, and the funds are used for maintenance of the old trains and restoration.

Around the country tourists can take trips by heritage trains and trams, and time tables are shown on www.veterantog.dk. Even if you do not go by “Culture on Rails”, there are many other exciting adventures to come. You can catch a heritage train more than 5,000 times a year.

Study the time tables of the individual railways and choose the next journey by historic train or tram. You will experience living culture history from the great years of industrialization.
